NOBLE NOTES

First produced in 1885 and hailing from Bologna, Amaro Montenegro is one of Italy's most famous Amaro's. A bittersweet digestive flavour with citrus and 40 different local herbs and spices including saffron, rose, angelica, coriander and liquorice root. Amaro was first crafted by Italian Monks who believed it had magical healing powers. The perfect after dinner drop especially served over ice with a slice of orange.

Arette Blanco Jalisco	10
Arette Reposado Jalisco	12
Herradura Anejo Jalisco	14
El Gran Viejo Jalisco	16

NOBLE NOTES

Blanco / Silver - Tequila in its most pure form, not typically aged and famous for its clean flavour and purity of the Agave aromatics.

Gold / Joven - Are Blanco Tequila's with the addition of caramel colouring, sugar syrups and oak extracts giving the Tequila its golden colour. Typically smoother and a popular choice for cocktails.

Reposado - Literally translates to mean 'rested'. Mexican law states that to be called Reposado it must spend at least 2 months in wooden barrels. Barrel ageing adds complexity and mellowness to the Tequila.

Anejo - Anejo translates to mean vintage or age. According to Mexican law, it must spend at least 1 year in wood Barrels with a maximum capacity of 600 litres. These are tequilas with richness and body.

Extra Anejo - These Tequilas must spend a minimum of 3 years in barrel. They are rich and very complex; showcasing flavours of chocolate, caramel, spice and smoke.

NOBLE NOTES

The Whisky producing regions of Scotland are split into five distinct areas. Speyside, Highlands, Lowlands, Islands (including Islay), and Campbeltown. Each region imparts distinct characteristics to its whiskies. Speyside looks for flavours of Apple skin, wild honey, poached pear, vanilla and grass. The Highland's seek out complex aromatics of fruitcake, flowers, peat and roasted nuts. The Lowlands offer flavours of caramel, treacle, brandy snap and ginger with creamy palates. In the Islands, including Islay, you will find bold peaty styles filled with spice, smoke, moss and briny characters. Campbeltown whiskies intermingle wonderful notes of smokey peat, ash, citrus peels, heather and spices.

Château Du Breuil Calvados VSOP Normandy	11	21
Tres Erres Moai Pisco Chile	11	21

NOBLE NOTES

First produced in the late 16th Century, Pisco is the local Brandy of Chile and Peru. To this day both countries fiercely defend that it originated in their country. It is made by distilling wine into a high proof Spirit. Varieties used include aromatic varieties such as Torontel, Moscatel and Albilla and more obscure varieties such as Quebranta and Negra Criolla. Pisco is a highly versatile spirit. Serve it straight up or in a sour!
